STAMPSHOW 2001 AN EFOCC SUCCESS

During the American Philatelic Society's summer show, Chicago, Illinois, the Errors, Freaks, Oddities Collectors Club conducted a seminar on "EFO's What are they and Where to get them", Saturday August 25 and a regional EFOCC business meeting on Sunday, August 26.

The EFOCC donated several door prizes of dues-free annual memberships in the Club during the APS Affiliate Luncheon. This Luncheon was addressed by Dr. Miguel A. Bretos, Acting Director of the Smithsonian Institution's National Postal Museum.

Of note, the seminar was well attended by a 50-50 mixture of collectors and dealers and several discussed major, color omitted, errors which each had discovered and had promulgated their discoveries in the national philatelic press.

Among attendees at Sunday's regional meeting were Orville Bruce, John Larson, Jim McDevitt, and Daniel Pagter. All enjoyed an extremely interesting show-and-tell session—but a note of sadness— word was received of that ,when it was noted that EFOCC charter-member Earl McAfee was experiencing ill health. All expressed wishes for Earl's speedy recovery and return to good health.

Do Pressure Sensitive Gummed Stamps Result in Perforating Errors?

by: Joseph Monteiro

Pressure sensitive gummed stamps or self-adhesive stamps have been issued with increasing frequency in a number of countries. Before the advent of self-adhesive stamps, the gum used commonly on stamps was PVA gum, a whitish coloured adhesive substance. Before the use of PVA gum, the gum used on stamps was Arabic gum, a yellow coloured adhesive substance. According to the Post Offices, these substances were not harmful to human health and it was even claimed that the licking of the yellow substance prevented common colds. With the advance of technology and after wisecracks about licking stamps, the self-adhesive stamps gradually made its way into the philatelic market. These self-adhesive stamps are die-cut. Consequently, one of the major dimensions used to classify stamps, perforations - the number of holes over two centimeters, was beginning to be lost. This would remove some of the pleasures of stamp collecting, one would have thought, as stamps would not be found with different perforations. But would it really remove this important dimension or just diminish its importance?

In my opinion, the use of die cutting technology would diminish the importance of this dimension for classifying stamps into various varieties. However, it would not remove it completely as a dimension for several reasons. One, stamps have to be separated from each other for usage unless printed in formats of a single stamp, this means that it will have to be cut which could lead to errors. Two, the die cut stamp technology, if applied to a pane or sheet of stamps in the wrong direction will result in stamps whose perforations are different. This is inherent in the nature of simulated interlocking perforations resulting from die-cutting technology. Three, the machinery used to cut the pane may not cut the stamps or the pane.

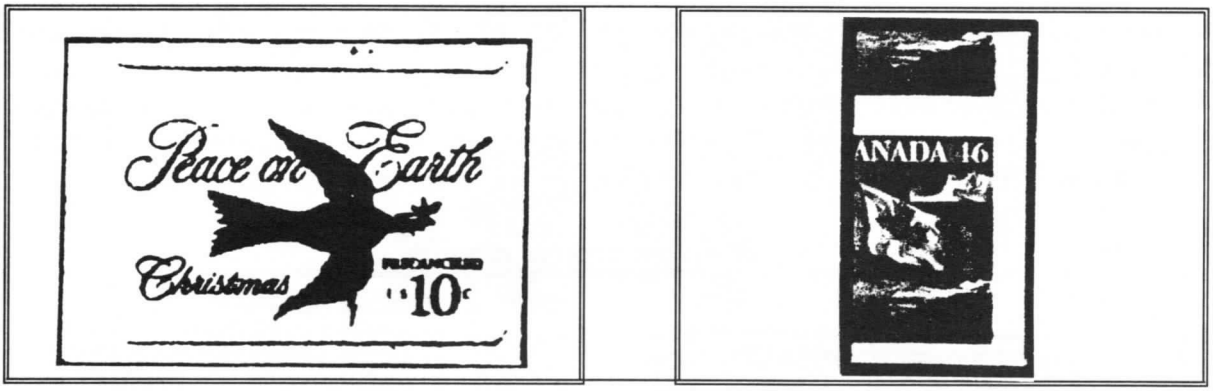

In this brief article, three types of errors or varieties that have resulted from die cutting technology used to separate stamps will be briefly reviewed. First, stamps that are incorrectly cut will be examined. Second, stamps that are cut creating a different pattern will be reviewed. Third, stamps that are not cut are examined.

Self-Adhesive Stamps Incorrectly Cut:

Self-adhesive stamps made their appearance in the philatelic world in the early 1960s. The first country to have produced self-adhesive stamps was Tonga and the first US self-adhesive stamp to be produced was the 'Peace on Earth' Christmas stamp in 1974. It is worthwhile observing that the use of self-adhesive stickers predates the use as selfadhesive stamps.

The die cutting technology used to cut these initial self-adhesive postage stamps was relatively straight forward. The stamps were cut in a simple pattern i.e., in straight lines or circles excluding of course stamps occasionally cut in the form of maps, etc. As a result, the basic type of error that resulted was incorrectly cut stamps. This basic type of error is shown in the illustration hereafter on the 10-cents 'Peace on Earth' US stamp and the 46-cents 'Canada Flag' stamp.

Stamps incorrectly cut can be considered as equivalent to misperforated stamps when stamps are not perforated. Consequently, the dimension of perforation used to classify and separate stamps has been removed but in its place it has brought the possibility of different type of dimension.

Self-Adhesive Stamps That Are Cut to Create Simulated Perforations or Patterns:

In due course of time, self-adhesive stamps were produced with simulated perforations. This is a look preferred by stamp collectors worldwide according to Avery Dennison, a global leader in pressure-sensitive adhesives and materials, office products, labels, tags, retail systems and specialty chemicals. The 32-cents 'Flag Over Porch' self-adhesive stamp was the first US stamp to be produced with simulated perforations in 1995.

The use of die cutting technology to produce self-adhesive stamps with simulated perforations or designs other than straight lines has created a new type of error or variety for philatelists. If the pane or sheet of stamps is die cut in the reverse direction, the simulated perforations or die cut on the stamp or stamps creates a different pattern of simulated perforations or pattern.

The reason is quite simple, in the case of a single stamp if you take a single stamp and apply a die-cut in the form of a heart on the stamp in the upright position you will get a die-cut of a heart in the right position upward. Suppose you now take the same die cut and reverse the stamp the die-cut heart will be up-side down. As a result, the pattern shown in the first case will not be the same as the pattern in the second. This is not difficult to imagine. In the case of stamps produced in sheets with simulated perforations the reason is less obvious. But why? This can be seen by examining the two sides of the simulated perforations. To create interlocking perforations, the perforations on the right can never be identical to the perforations on the left, i.e. if the perforations sticks out on the right it must be indented on the left. Therefore, if the die-cut is applied to the pane or sheet of stamps upside down the perforations that should appear on the right appear on the left, creating stamps with different perforations

An excellent example of this is the recent 46-cent Petro-Canada stamp. The stamp pane with twelve stamps was die cut with only one interlocking perforation on each side in the form of a 'w' when viewed upright on the horizontal side and when viewed with the right side at the bottom on the vertical side. Suppose the pane was die cut upside down, what would happen? The shape of the perforation would not appear as a 'w' but as an 'M'. This is shown in the illustration.

Illustration of die-cuts

Normal

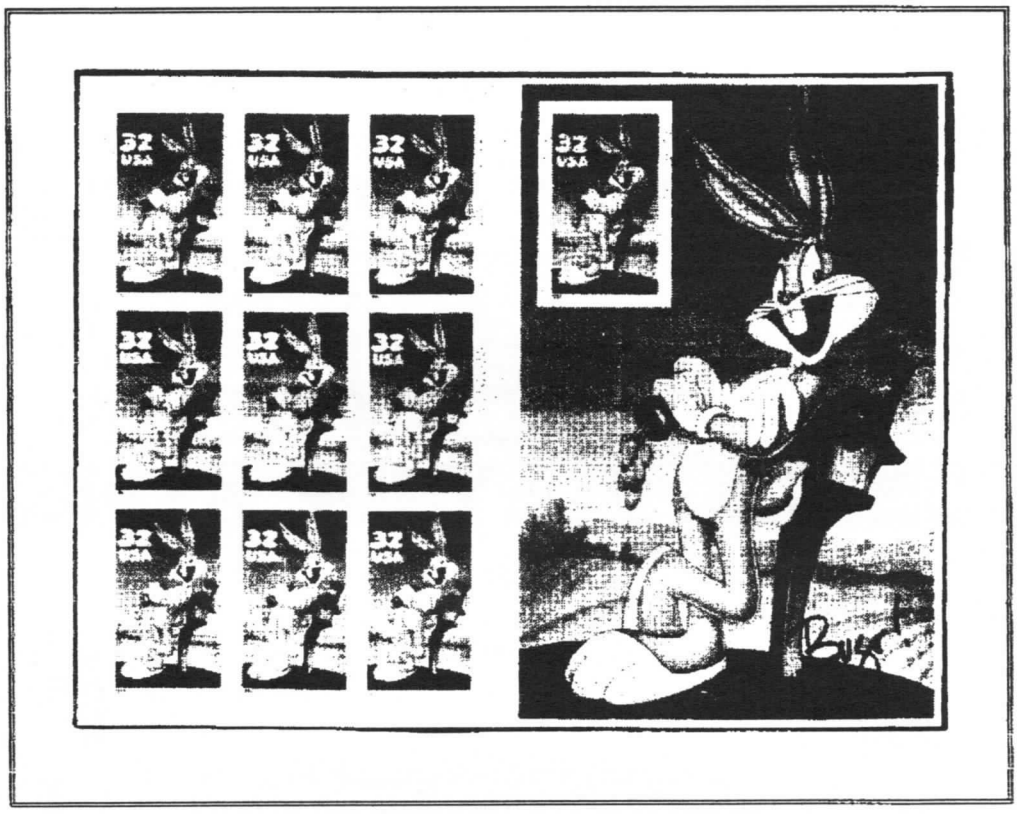

Variety

Thus, even with die-cut stamps that are perforated different perforations on stamps may be found if the pane or sheet of stamps are die cut upside down. The possibility of such errors or perforating variations arising are much smaller if one assumes that it is as infrequent as stamps that are printed upside down. Of course when part of the design on a stamps is printed upside down it attracts a considerable degree of attention compared to stamps that are die-cut upside down. In the case of straight line die-cuts, one would not expect to see such variations. Consequently, while the dimension of perforation created by the perforator to classify stamps has been removed, in its place it has brought in the possibility of a another dimension.

Self-Adhesive Stamps Not Die-Cut:

Self-adhesive stamps are sometimes found with a third type of error, i.e., without receiving the die-cut. This can happen for several reasons. First, the pane or sheet of stamps may not have been sent to the cutting machine to receive the die-cut. Second, the pane or sheet may not receive the impression of the cutting blade of the die-cutting machine, either because the blade has been dulled after cutting thousands of sheets or panes of stamps or because the blade did not make proper contact with the sheet or pane of stamps. Third, the pane or sheet may be partially cut for a similar reason.

A good example of this error that received a great deal of publicity was the discovery of the US 32-cents stamps depicting Bugs Bunny. The stamps were found without any impression of the die-cut on one stamp. This error is equivalent or similar to imperforate stamps. An illustration of this error is shown hereafter.

Conclusion:

A major innovation in the use of adhesives on stamps was the introduction of self-adhesive or quick stamps. Popularity in the use of self-adhesive stamps with the public has increased in the 1990's as it enables users to send different greeting messages for different occasions like birthdays or marriages and because licking a stamp may not display the proper decorum in some circles of society. In some countries, self-adhesive stamps are very popular for example in France it accounts for 70 percent of the country's total stamp sales.

The use of self-adhesive stamps and die-cutting technology to separate or cut the stamps in a pane or sheet of stamps while it has reduced the number of dimensions by which stamps can be classified, it has not completely eliminated it. This is because die-cutting creates its own dimension that can be used for classification, especially if it is used to create simulated perforation or patterns.

Elsewhere you will find the first of a new series of articles that will depend entirely on YOU to participate. It's called "My Favorite EFO" (please see page 10 of this issue), and it can be any item from your collection, or from literature or auction catalogues, that you like, for any reason you like it: value, eye appeal, how you found it, the design, he hole in your collection that it fills, or 'whatever'.

To publish we will need a clean black and white, good contrast photocopy of the item, and your text; which can be as long or as short as you want to make it. If you can type it, great; send it directly to President/Editor Jim McDevitt. If you can type it, send a readable hand written manuscript to me, and I will do that.

You can't write, you say? Sure you can! Just let yourself do stream of consciousness as you write down thoughts about your EFO. Worry about polishing another day, or send the article to me and I'll help you put it in final form.

In making a photocopy for the EFOC, feel free to make it of the item only - and make it on dark backing if you can since the features of the stamp will show up better that way; or make it showing your entire album or exhibit page if you think that would be of interest. We will try to publish at least a couple of submissions with each issue of the EFOC; first come first served.

I look forward to hearing from YOU!

ANNUAL DUES REMINDER!!

Dues are overdue for the club's fiscal year of 1 July, 2001 to June 30, 2002. If this issue's mail label shows an "01" after your membership number (xxxx-01) then your dues are due.

Please remit $15 U.S. for one year's renewal or $27 U.S. For two years renewal, please remit to:

My Favorite EFO by John M. Hotchner

I first saw it in the wonderful booklet by Dr. Stanley B. Segal titled, "Errors, Freaks and Oddities on U.S. Stamps - Question Marks in Philately". What I saw is shown in Figure 1.

The illustration was stunning - not just a misperf, and not on any old average stamp, but on an 8c 1944 Transport Air Mail. There are far more valuable items pictured in the book, but that one struck me as about the most desirable flawed stamp I had ever seen. At the same time I lusted after it, I thought to myself that it must me happily ensconced in someone's collection. And though there would have to be more than one, I could not imagine that I would ever see one in the flesh, let alone own one.

About 15 years later, and having long given up the dream of owning this item, it's first cousin dropped from the sky. See Figure 2. At the time that I was working hardest to dig up material for my exhibit on stamp separation methods and what can happen when they go wrong, this stamp was among others that were placed under my nose to see if I might be interested. I have, another 10 to 15 years later, forgotten who the owner was, but I do remember that I made an offer for twice what I felt the item would bring if sold in an auction, and held my breath. When the offer was accepted, I was delighted.

I have never seen another, and I feel sure that there would be many others that would have appeared in the EFO market had this been an example from an entire sheet. Instead, I believe this is from a folded over comer that occurred in between the placement of the vertical perforations and the horizontal perforating process. My only regret is that whoever found the comer fold destroyed it taking the single stamps out of it. Still, I'm glad to have it, and feel it is one of the most eye arresting items in my 160-page exhibit.

Now, given the fact that the Segal example seems to match mine, as the stamp above, the question is how many stamps were affected by the fold, and how many survive. Anyone who can add to this story is encouraged to write to me at P.O. Box 1125, Falls Church, VA 22041-0125.

34 cent Eagle Envelope: Issue of January 7, 2001 has been discovered with a gray vice blue eagle. These stamped envelopes were printed by Westvacon utilizing flexographic printing. This 34 cent Federal Eagle stamped envelope was issued in three sizes— #6-3/4, #9, and #10, all with and without windows.

5 Cent Trans-Mississippi issue of 1998: Scott 3209d, a single stamp has been discovered to be almost completely missing most blue ink from the frame surrounding the black central image. The entire frame appears black.

33 Cent Celebrate the Century 1950's pane of 15 stamps: Scott 3187, of the 15 stamps on this pane, one has been discovered with tagging missing on 12 of the 15 stamps. This variety was probably caused by inking starvation.

8 Cent Post Rider: Scott 1478, has been brought to public attention as having a pane with a dramatic shift of the red, blue, and black color printings. Thus, the top line of stamps lacks any red or blue color. The remaining rows display a "change-of-design" in that "The Rise of the Spirit of Independence" and the Bicentennial Logo are on each stamp's top vice its bottom.

29 Cent Wild Animals Booklet: A certificate has been issued for a booklet pane which has been discovered fully imperforate.

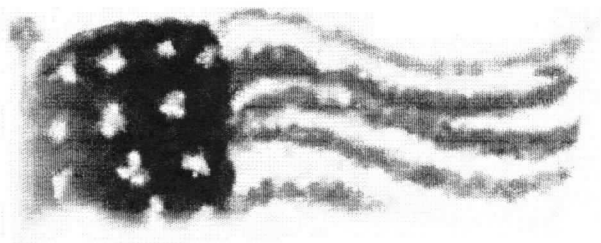

20 Cent Desert Plants: Discovered with dark brown offset color missing. A full pane of this error has been valued at $75,000.

25 Cent Olympians: Scott 2496-500, missing the cyan (blue) color

32 Cent self-stick Flag over Porch: Scott 2920, discovered with die-cuts partially missing.

29 Cent Christmas Stocking Stamp: A pane of 50, originally thought to've been printer's waste is now considered to be a legitimate error which had been shipped from Ashton Potter along with normally printed panes. According to a 2001 Foundation certificate, four of the five inkings show multiple impressions.

33 Cent Coral Rose Booklet: has been discovered which shows marginal markings from the original printed roll (web) of stamp paper. Markings include a scissors symbol, registration crosses, and color test bars.

Auction Notes

1000 - Since I took over the EFOCC auction, we have sold more than 1000 lots through the 92nd auction. We sold the first lot for $1,000 or more in the 93rd auction. Now if we could get to 1000 members, we would really be doing something.

The WWW.EFOCC.ORG web site is running. It isn't very pretty but it does have the auction lots in color. A number of people viewed the 93rd auction lots and the 94th should be on the web site before this gets printed. Each color page is about 2.5 megabytes in size. The original scans are 36 megabytes per page and I have reduced them to less than 10% of their original size for the web site, but they are still BIG.

You missed your first chance. A copy of the stamp featured on the front page of Linn's September 3, 2001 issue was in our auction a few months back at $125.00 and IT DIDN'T SELL. It is back in the 94th as lot number 350. I will try to have a scan of the individual stamp on the web site. I think it will sell this time around.

As soon as I can get to it, a copy of the results of the 93rd auction, a membership application and an auction form will also be on the web site.

I have also been the recipient of bad news about several members of the EFOCC. Frank Fay and Bob Gesell have both passed away and several members have become incapacitated. I have tried to give advice to the survivors, but it is obvious to me that the family does not know what to do with the EFO material that the members collected. I do know from experience that even most regular stamp dealers don't have sufficient knowledge to evaluate EFO material. I recommended that the survivors contact the people listed in the Collector as buyers of EFO material and offered the auction as a slow way to dispose of the material, but the EFOCC should have a brochure for the family. Likewise EFOCC members should educate their families on the specialized parts of their collections.

The 94th has more than 400 items, from inexpensive single items to medium expensive items. There are several groups of material, I have selected a few items for the illustrations, but please read the lot descriptions. I have a lot of material for the 95th auction, but am always open.

Tell me what you want. Write to me (use a nice EFO stamp on the envelope) or email me at any of the addresses below.

EFOCC Auction Rules For Consignors

Preparing Lots:

Please use a blank form from, such as contained in a recent copy of The EFO Collector. Photocopies are fine. Please use a separate form for each lot.

Secure each lot to the front of the form; attach large lots to the reverse side. Protect all items with mounts, glassine, etc., and stiffeners if necessary, but be sure item/items can be easily removed by auction director for examination and/or photographing. Do not use staples. Attach each item so that description can be easily read. A simple and easy way to mount lots is to do so on dealer sales cards, or in glassines mounted face down for easy removal.

Include a reserve (minimum bid) or write "none". Lots may be revised to accurately describe items; or returned if necessary. Your name and EFOCC number must be on the consignment form but to preserve anonymity, these are removed from the consignment sheet before sending item to successful bidders.

Send consignments to Peter L. Rikard, POB 25623, Richmond, VA 23260. Use insured or registered U. S. Mail.

Consignor Fees:

Consignor commission is 10% of the hammer price, with a minimum bid of 50 cents per lot.

Unsold lots incur a 50 cent fee per lot, and the consignor pays return postage and insurance.

Expenses and printing constraints make it impractical to picture every lot, especially those which are large in size. EFOCC will exercise discretion in picturing lots.

Consignor Special Instructions:

To save postage and labor, EFOCC can automatically resubmit unsold lots at lower minimums in a future auction, if you instruct EFOCC clearly what to do.

If you send duplicate or very similar lots, it is consignor's responsibility to state clearly if you would like to these to be placed in different sales. Generally, EFOCC places all items received in the same sale to minimize paperwork.

Consignment/Payment Timing:

EFOCC receives consignments continually and prepare them for subsequent sales, roughly on a first in first out basis. However, large lots may be spread over several auctions.

After the close of each sale, unsold lots are offered to bidders on a first come-first served basis for $1 over the reserve with no buyer's commission or postage. This increases total sales, makes more bidders happy, and sells more lots for consignors, all for very little additional effort.

EFOCC needs approximately one month after auction's closing date to determine successful bidders, prepare and mail invoices, mail lots, receive payment from winners, list after sale lots and accept their offers, etc., etc. Thus, consignors can expect to receive payment about four to six weeks after an auction closes.

EFOCC Rules Auction #94 Bidders

How to Bid:

Please bid on a consignment form from a recent EFO Collector. A photocopy is fine.

Include your EFOCC membership number. For new bidders and non-EFOCC members, please include your APS membership number. Sign your bid sheet to acknowledge acceptance of the EFOCC auction rules; unsigned forms can not be accepted.

Submit bids to Peter L. . Rikard, POB 25623, Richmond, VA 23260. Email <Rikard@mediaone.net>

Bidding Precautions:

Minimum bids are not estimates, but are true reserves established by the consignors. Bids below the listed reserve will not be accepted.

Bidders are responsible for inaccurate bids. Bids do not have to be typed, but, please, be sure numbers and amounts are clearly legible. Confirm phone and Email bids with a written bid sheet.

Auction Bid Increments:

Please use the following increments when bidding and/or assigning reserves to consignments. Lots are sold to the highest bidder at one advance over the second highest bid.

Bid Level	Increment
$1 to $9.99	$ .50
$10 to $49	$ 1.00
$50 to $99	$ 2.50
$100 to $499	$ 5.00
$500 and up	$ 10.00

EFOCC reduces out-of-increment bids to the next lower increment. For example, a bid of $39.50 will be taken as $39.00.

Special Bidding Instructions:

As the EFOCC is a small auction, special instructions can not be easily accommodated. EFOCC can not accept "BUY" bids nor "INCREASE BY...%". Please, make your final, best, and highest bid and you will get the lot at the lowest price available.

Bidders Payments:

A 10% buyer's premium is added to the hammer price of each lot. Buyers pay postage, plus insurance on lots valued at over $10.00.

Payment is due upon receipt of invoice. If you will be out of town for a while just after an auction closes, or are moving to your summer home about that time, please let EFOCC know at the time you place your bids.

Returning Lots:

Within five (5) days of receipt of awarded lots, you may return any lot which is not described correctly provided such lot is still in its original condition. If an expertising certificate is a condition of bidding, please inform EFOCC of this before auction closes.

One Final Request:

Please bid generously on donation lots whose monies go entirely to the benefit of the EFOCC.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

As noted elsewhere in this issue and on behalf of all Club members I express our strongest wishes for a speedy return to good health for EFOCC charter member Earl MacAfee

Also and as noted in the Veep's report, your editor continues to be in dire need of material to share with our members. Your editor needs articles; photocopies of exhibit pages, examples of exhibit synopsis, member profiles, etc., etc. Please share your discoveries, favorite items, topics, etc.

Sincere thanks to Steve Schweon's suggestions to improve the Club's Buyers/ Sellers handout flyer. The use of advertisements and colour will greatly enhance the flyer.

Sorry to announce that Ron Hagan has had to resign as the Club's back-issues publications director. His efforts will be sorely missed. The Club would appreciate a volunteer to fill this vacant position as EFOCC back issues director.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION!!

Information pertaining to the current business status of several U.K. auctions houses has just been received, and since you may have purchased from these auctioneers through our offices, or may know the principals involved, you may be interested in the details of these happenings.

According to announcements in the September 2001 issue of the U.K. "THE PHILATELIC EXPORTER" trade journal, the following developments recently occurred on the London public philatelic auctioneer scene.

1. STANLEY GIBBONS AUCTIONS: In its centenary year, SG has suspended its public auctions while the organization concentrates on establishing its Internet operation.

2. SOTHEBY'S: Following its recently announced collaboration with the Warwick & Wanvick philatelic auctioneer, SOTHEBY'S will no longer hold public philatelic auctions. Auction sales are being held On-Line at the following WebSite: <http://www.sothebys.com>

3. SPINK-LONDON: SPINK, which took over the CHRISTIES'S/ROBSON LOWE philatelic stamp auctions operations, is for sale but, according to a spokesperson, its "business as usual" until a buyer is found; the new owner will determine the future of the philatelic auction department.

Sincere thanks for the foregoing information to:

EFOCC VAPEX 2001 REGIONAL MEETING INFORMATION

The Errors, Freaks, Oddities Collectors Club (EFOCC) is proud to announce that the national society for collectors of stamp production mistakes has selected VAPEX 2001 (November 16 to 18, 2001, Virginia Beach, Virginia) as the site for its 2001 Eastern regional meeting.

VAPEX, sponsored by the Virginia Philatelic Federation and which has hosted regional EFOCC meetings for the past fifteen years, is a wonderful show for collectors; an excellent show for families, since there are many nearby attractions: Atlantic Ocean beaches, Colonial Williamsburg, Jamestown, the famed pottery factory, Busch Gardens, and the Norfolk Naval Base. Also, VAPEX is a World Series of Philately participating exhibition.

Hotel accommodations can be made by contacting the DOUBLETREE at 757-422-8900, extension 2071.

The show will feature a 38 dealer bourse and 4,000 pages of philatelic exhibits. During the show, the EFOCC will conduct a regional meeting and a seminar on EFO's. For the show's run - there will be a EFOCC Society table - where all comers may obtain a free evaluation of their EFO material.

This is a great opportunity to sample error collecting and the price is right!! There is no admission fee and there is free parking for the show, which will be held in the Virginia Beach Pavilion Conference Center.

The EFOCC will hold it's annual Dutch-Treat breakfast at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, November 17, 2001. At this breakfast, the EFOCC Robert E. Manning, Jr. award recipient will be announced.

For further information, contact VAPEX, P. O. Box 5367, Virginia Beach, VA 23471-0367
